Live To Explore

"Travel all around the world"

Introduction:

Travel agencies just like any other companies need to have an attractive site to feature their different offers an attractive website that is more than a simple flyer. Businesses worldwide depend on their web resources a lot. That's why even small companies tend to have their own websites these days. And in most cases, creating a quality website is not an easy task.

Live To Explore is a travel and tour booking HTML, CSS, and JavaScript Website, We have created all the features with Travel's website in mind, like a Booking system or Kayak.

On the website, we have, Search package where users can create custom packages, Categories, Special offers for some packages, a Gallery option where we showcase some examples of the most attractive places, an about page, a service page, and an attractive welcome page.

Tools used:

HTML5 – For designing the skeleton of the webpage

CSS3 – For Styling the webpage

JavaScript – To give more behaviors to the webpage

Visual Studio Code Editor – To write the different codes of our website.

User expectations:

The pages of our website have been made clear and easy for navigation for any lambda user. With very few clicks and steps, the user can access the different sections and pages of the website to do their booking and reservations for the destinations which they want to visit.

Our travel agency website allows users to create customized traveling packages at their convenience. This greatly helps in increasing their satisfaction and thereby making them come back. We also propose customized packages at lower costs to our customers to make sure that even those with very low budgets can also be satisfied by using our website for their bookings.

Result:

Our website is available at:
